LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

BUSINESS | EDUCATION | FINE ARTS | SCIENCE | WRITING

Dodge City Community College

Leadership Institute at Dodge City Community College is a chance for you to learn about career opportunities in business, education, fine arts, science and writing...and earn college credit in the process.

You'll spend the week of June 17–24, 2006, living in one of DCCC's residence halls under the supervision of resident assistants and adult sponsors.

Take a look inside and see what we've got planned!

Leadership at DCCC

Since 1998, Dodge City Community College has been offering leadership and career exploration opportunities for high school students across Kansas. First, through Business Week, and now, with Leadership Institute, DCCC demonstrates its commitment to growing the next generation of leaders in the areas of business, music, science, education and writing.

Business Week

Learn about the dynamic, changing world of business from some of the top entrepreneurs and CEOs in Kansas during Business Week at Dodge City Community College. You will gain an understanding about the free enterprise system from outstanding, caring college professors. Explore the relationship between business, government and society in presentations by local, state and national political figures. Learn about career opportunities available in marketing, management, accounting, international business, finance and operations management. And share the knowledge and memorable experiences with the top high school students in Kansas!

Choral Academy

Incorporating group (choral) singing, solo singing (including recital and karaoke singing), vocal music history, study of Musical Theatre and other elements of vocal music, the week of activities and workshops will culminate in a performance for the entire Institute. Detailed work in stage presence, vocal/choral diction, vocal jazz, relaxation exercises and off campus field trips will enhance the student's leaning of vocal skills. Time will also be given to pronunciation of commonly sung foreign languages using the standard International Phonetics Alphabet.

Am I Eligible?

Dodge City Community College Leadership Institute is open to any students who will be high school juniors, seniors, or college freshmen in Fall, 2006. All highly motivated students who have a desire to succeed in business, education, fine arts, science, or writing are encouraged to apply!

Cost

The cost for meals, on-campus lodging, program materials and activities for Business Week, Choral Academy, Kansas Future Teacher Academy, or Science Academy is $100. Students participating in any of these four events receive three hours of transferable college credit. Registration fee for the Write to Win Saturday workshops is $25 for each weekend. Participation in both Write to Win sessions earns one additional hour of college credit.

Special assistance

Dodge City Community College's Center for Business, Technology and Continuing Education is committed to making programs accessible to all participants. If you have special requirements due to disabilities or dietary restrictions, please contact the Center for Business, Technology and Continuing Education at 620-227-9399 by June 2, 2006. After that date, we will make every effort to provide assistance, but cannot guarantee that requested services will be available.

Application

Your high school counselor and faculty members teaching business, education, music, science and writing classes will have application forms for Dodge City Community College's Leadership Institute. Completed applications must be returned to DCCC by June 2, 2006.

Science Academy

This program will involve the student in college level topics of magnetism, electricity, light, gravity, mountain building and geologic time, fossils, rocks and minerals, meteorites, black holes, quasars, and the births, lives and deaths of stars. There will also be sections dealing with weather, GPS navigation technology and geocaching. This course will center on hands-on laboratory exercises utilizing state of the art software and sensor interfaces, lectures, discussions, internet animations, viewing the sun, moon and stars with 10" telescope and field trips both on and off campus.

Kansas Future Teacher Academy

The Kansas Future Teacher Academy is an intense five-day orientation program for Kansas high school students. This opportunity is for those who are considering teaching as a career, and would profit from a campus experience to explore a career in teaching.

The Academy introduces students to:

- A wide variety of career opportunities in education
- Issues in K-12 education, governance and finance
- Problem solving and creativity building
- Leadership skill development
- Award-winning teachers current in their fields
- Peers from around the state interested in teaching

Students participating in the Kansas Future Teacher Academy must have at least a 2.75 GPA and be involved in school and community activities.

Write to Win

Increasingly, admissions and scholarship committees request essays and other written documents as part of the application process. This seminar will help you compile commonly requested materials: a personal essay, a resume, and a cover letter.

In the first Saturday session (June 17), Write to Win: Personal Essay, you'll learn to introduce yourself winningly by telling an appropriate yet interesting story about your goals and motivations, an influential person, or a significant moment.

In the second Saturday session (June 24), Write to Win: Resumes and Cover Letters, you'll introduce yourself professionally through a resume, a formatted listing of your achievements and experience, and a cover letter.
